

Ch #8

Multimedia Skills

Q List the name of 5 multimedia skills.

⇒ To produce good multimedia, we need a similar diverse range of skills.

⇒ They may include:

- Detailed knowledge of computers
- Text
- Art
- Graphics
- Sound
- Video

⇒ It is also called multimedia skill set.

⇒ These skills may be available in a single individual or more likely in a composite of individuals working as a team.

Q Identify the typical members of a multimedia project team and describe the skills that they need for their work?

- Project manager
- Interface designer
- Information designer
- Multimedia designer
- Instructional designer
- Producer
- Multimedia programmer
- Scriptwriter
- Director
- Video specialist

- The course page of multimedia skill set for a project is called
- team building refers to activities that help a group work better together to optimum level.
- o Subject matter expert
- o Team building

- o Video Specialist
- o Audio Specialist

Q. What is the role and responsibilities of project manager?

A project manager's role is at the center of the action.

Responsibilities:

- o Responsible for overall development and implementation of a project.
- o Day to day operations and budget & limitation of software
- o Put together good team.
- o maintain the clear vision of project.

Background Skills:

- o Understand hardware & Software
- o Communication Skills
- o Good negotiator
- o Budget management skills
- o Possess knowledge of the basic principles of multimedia authoring.
- o He should be creative.

e.g

At microsoft, project managers are called program managers.

Q. What is the role of subject-matter expert?

- o Subject matter expert have specialized knowledge in a specific area of expertise.
- o it ensures that the facts and details are correct so that the projects / programs deliverables will meet the needs of the stakeholders.

o A SME is also called editor at microsoft.

Responsibilities:

- o Content creation
- o Information validation
- o Concept development

Q. What is the responsibility of multimedia designers?

- ⇒ The look and feel of a multimedia project should be pleasing and aesthetics as well as inviting and engaging.
- ⇒ Screen should present an appealing mix of colors, shape and type.

Responsibilities:-

- Design & assemble the project
- o Look at the overall content of the project

- Creates a structure for the content
- Determines the design elements required to support the structure.
- Decides which media are appropriate for presenting which pieces of content.
- Prepares blueprint for project: Content, media & interaction.
- Also coordinates team:
 - Graphic designer
 - Instructional designer
 - Information designer

Background / Skills:

- MM designers need various skills
- Ability to analyze content structurally and match it with effective presentation.
- Expertise with different media types.
- Ability to look at information from different points of view.
- Interpersonal Skills
- Understand resources - both technological & human.
- Solid organizational skills, attention to detail.

Combine graphic with animation to create multimedia content for websites, television, printed advertising displays. They may work in a variety of fields including advertising, education, etc.

(i) Graphic designer:-

- ⇒ Graphic designer deals with visual
- illustrations (freelance)
 - Animators (flash)
 - Image processing specialists (photoshop).

(ii) Instructional designer:-

- ⇒ Deals with subject matter make sure that training is clear and properly presented for the intended audience
- Clear and properly presented
 - Knowledge of content

(iii) Information designer:-

- ⇒ Deal with contents and navigation
- ⇒ They:
- Structure the content
 - select presentation media
 - Determine user feedback and pathway

Interface Designer:-

- ⇒ Interface designer design the user interface, control and interaction style for the system.
- ⇒ Devise the navigation path and content maps.

- Creating software devices that organizes content allows users to access or modify the content on the screen.
- Building a user friendly interface

Responsibilities:

- o Provides access to media and control to people who use it.
- o Makes interface "transparent" to users (effective use of windows, icons, backgrounds, controls).

Background / Skills:

- o Familiar with different multimedia interfaces.
- o Knows authoring system, user testing
- o Basic drawing skills.

Q. What is the responsibility of writers?

- o Multimedia writers do everything writers of linear media do, and more.

Responsibilities:

- o Create characters, action, point of view, interactivity.
- o Write proposals, script actors narration write text screens to deliver messages.
- o Writers of text screens sometimes called content writers.
- o They glean information from content experts, synthesize it, and then communicate it in a clear and concise manner.

- o Scriptwriters write dialogue, narration and voiceovers.

Background / Skills:

- o Background in marketing
- o Ability to work within tight deadlines.

Q. What are the responsibilities of video specialist?

For high quality productions, it may be necessary for video specialist to be responsible for:

- o Coordinates videographers, sound technicians, lighting designers, set designers, script supervisors, gaffer grips, production assistants and actors.
- o However, for many modest projects, a video specialist may shoot and edit all of the footage without outside help.
- o Whether working individually or managing a large crew, a video specialist needs to understand how to shoot quality video, how to transfer the video footage to a computer, how to edit the footage down to the final product using non-linear editing system.

The delivery of video files on CD, DVD, or the web.

Background / Skills:

- Multimedia premises for special effects.
- Skilled with QuickTime or MS video for editing.

Q. What are the responsibilities of audio specialist?

- The quality of audio elements can make or break a multimedia project.
- Audio specialists are the wizards who make a multimedia program come alive, by designing and producing music, voice over narrations, and sound effects.
- Audio specialist may be responsible for:
Locating and selecting suitable music & talent.
- Scheduling recording sessions.
- Digitizing and editing recorded material into computer files.

Background / skills:

- Skilled in studio recording.
- With sequencing software they should be conversant.
- Fluency in MIDI.

Q# What are the responsibilities of multimedia programmer?

- A multimedia programmer or software engineer integrates all the multimedia elements of a project into a seamless whole using an authoring system or programming language.
- Multimedia programming functions range from coding simple displays of multimedia elements to controlling peripheral devices and managing complex timing, transitions and record keeping.
 - Without programming talent there could be no multimedia.

Background / skills:

- multimedia languages, JavaScript, OpenScript, Lingo, RevTalk, PHP, Java or C++, XML.
- Ability to quickly learn new systems.

Q. What are the responsibilities of producer?

- Website producer is a new occupation, but putting together a coordinated set of pages for the WWW requires the same creative process.

Skills: Knowledge of HTML, CGI scripts, Photoshop, etc.

Define team building?

It refers to activities that help a group and its members functions at optimal levels of performance by creating a work culture that incorporates the styles of its members.

Video and film scripts represents a linear sequence of events.

The script writer visualizes the concepts in three dimensional environments and if needed uses the virtual reality integration into the program.

The content of a multimedia production always must follow logically and the text should always be structured and correct grammatically.

Text & narration is an integrated part of the application.

The multimedia architect integrates all the multimedia building blocks like graphics, text, audio, music, video, photos and animation by using an authoring software.

The Role of Computer Graphic artist is to deal with the graphic elements of the program like backgrounds, bullets, buttons, pictures editing, 3-D objects, animation and logos etc.

The responsibility of the web master is to create and maintain an internet web page. They connects a multimedia presentation into a webpage.