

Part-paper 2017

- (i) Define high tech products?
- (ii) Who is entrepreneur?
- (iii) What is intellectual property?
- (iv) What is market market plan?
- (v) Define financial plan?
- (vi) What is window of opportunity?
- (vii) What is feasibility plan?

⇒ it is detailed study to see if a business idea is practical and likely to succeed. It checks if the idea is doable, looking at things like the market, costs, operations, and potential risks.

By analyzing these factors, it helps entrepreneurs decide if they should move forward with their idea or make change.

- (viii) Define proforma / projected financial statements?

Estimates a company financial position and performance based on certain assumptions & forecasts.

Future-oriented financial statements

They help business plan for the future make informed decisions, and communicate their financial expectations to investors, lenders and others etc.

They include:

Income stmt: Predicts future earnings & expenses.

Balance sheet: Forecasts assets and debts.

Cash flow stmt: Estimates future cash movement.

- (ix) Define Core Competency?

⇒ Core competency is a unique strength or capability that gives a business a competitive advantage. It's something the company does exceptionally well, better than its competitors and is difficult for others to replicate.

⇒ Core competencies include specialized knowledge, skills, technologies, processes or even customer relationships that are crucial to business success.

e.g. brand names

- (x) Define indirect competitors?

⇒ are businesses that offer different products or services but satisfy the same or similar customer needs. They are not direct rivals in the same industry but still compete.

for the same target market.
e.g.

- o if own a coffee shop, then direct competitors would be other coffee shops.

Indirect competitors might include juice bars, food restaurants or convenience stores that offer alternative snacks etc.

(xi) What is mission statement?

⇒ It is like a business compass. It tells everyone what the business is all about and where it's headed. It is a short clear statement that says why the business exist, what it believes in, and what it wants to achieve.

⇒ It reminds why they are doing what they are doing.

⇒ It clearly defines the company purpose, values, goals.

(xii) Define innovation?

(xiii) Define industry analysis?

⇒ It involves understanding/examining the broader environment in which a business operates. It is about like taking a big picture snapshot to understand the industry landscape and identify opportunities & threats.

This analysis looks at factors like market size, trends, competitors and regulations. It can impact the success of a business. By understanding the industry, entrepreneurs can make more informed decisions about their business strategies, such as where to focus their efforts, how to differentiate themselves, and what risks to be aware of.

(xiv) Define cost leadership strategy?

⇒ How to make stuff really cheap without making it bad. Company that reduces production costs relative to its competitors and charge lower prices for its products.

⇒ When a business focuses on being the lowest-cost producer in its industry. offer products, compare, in the industry

⇒ It's about finding ways to make products or deliver services cheaper than anyone else while still maintaining the acceptable quality. This can involve things like efficient production processes, cutting unnecessary expenses or negotiating better deals with suppliers. Purpose of this strategy to attract a large customer and gain a competitive edge in the market.

What is vendor credit?

⇒ Refers to a situation where a business buys goods or services from a supplier but does not immediately pay for them.

Instead suppliers extend credit terms, allowing the business to pay later date, usually within a specified period.

⇒ it is a short-term loan from the supplier to the buyer. it can be beneficial for entrepreneurs as it provides them with flexibility in managing their cash flow & allows them to acquire necessary goods or services without immediate payment.

What is service prototype?

○ it is trial version of a service that a business intends to offer. it is like a sample or a preview of what the final service will be like. This helps entrepreneurs refine and improve their services based on feedback and testing before launching it to the public. It might not be perfect or fully developed.

Refine brainstorming and reverse brainstorming?

Reverse brainstorming is a group of method that focuses on the negative aspects of a product, service or idea as well as ways to overcome these problems.

What is broaden method for developing new ideas?

⇒ Method of developing new ideas when the individuals are unaware of the problem. way to generate lots of ideas quickly. Gather a diverse group, brainstorm without judging, combine and improve ideas, then pick the best one. it's about being creative and working together to solve problems.

Leverage the collective intelligence of a diverse group.

What are the motivations to go for global market?

- Profits
- Competitive pressure
- Unique products or services
- Economies of scale
- Tax benefits
- Technological advantage

What is switching cost?
Costs that a consumer incurs as a result of changing brands, suppliers & products.
⇒ it refers to expenses or difficulties that customers face when they decide to switch from one product or service provider to another.

Define lead time?

Time period in which the first money operates in the industry under conditions of limited competition.

⇒ it refers to amount of time takes for a product to be delivered or service to be provided from the moment an order is placed or request is made. It includes the time required for procuring the order, manufacturing, transportation and any other necessary steps until the product or service reaches the customer.

⇒ Entrepreneurs often aim to minimize lead times to improve customer satisfaction and remain competitive in the market.

What is opportunity identification?
The process by which an entrepreneur comes up with the opportunity for a new venture.

What is entrepreneurial mind-set?

Define corporate entrepreneurship?

Define cognitive adaptability?

Define external environment?

What is product evolution process?

Process through which innovation is developed and commercialized is called product evolution process.

Define entrepreneurial strategy?

↳ means through which an organization establishes & re-establishes its fundamental set of relationship with its environment.

⇒ Set of decisions, actions and intentions that first generate and

"in exploit over time, a new entry.

Three stages/elements:
- Generation & exploitation of new entry opportunity
- Feedback loop

⇒ Like a roadmap for startup.

It is the plan entrepreneurs make to reach their goals by understanding their customers, beating competitors, and using their strengths wisely. It is all about smart decisions to make their business successful.

An entrepreneurial strategy has three key stages:

- Generation of new entry opportunity
- Exploitation of new entry opportunity
- feedback loop from the culmination of a ^{new entry generation}

Define "me too" strategy?

⇒ Copying products that already exist and attempt to build an advantage through minor variations.

⇒ Refers to business approach where a company imitates or replicates the products, services or business model of a successful competitor. Instead of innovating or creating something new, businesses use the me too strategy.

⇒ often involves offering similar products at a competitive price or with minor variations to attract customers who are already familiar with the established competitor.

(DD-2-22)